

Sunday 5P.M.

Dear Family,

Its a rather cool sunday around here after the extremely warm weather we had around here early in the week. It got up to about 78 degrees one day. I appreciated my swim class on that particular day. I hope our lost Brethern , Mr. D. J. Baer, Pugilist, is back on his feet again. By the way how about a couple of letters or two. Ive only gotten one from home this term so far and one from Charlae. That only makes two in three weeks; not such a good batting average.

My new ~~roommate~~ room mate likes to play tennis. and so we have had quite a few games until the beginning of this week I began having a little trouble with my feet. I went over to the hospital and they told me I could use an arch support under the arches that go cross ways in the feet. It is a surprise to me, but I guess I'll ~~for~~ follow their advice as they are usually right about those things. I thought of jumping out of my upper berth and breaking them down completely. Maybe I could get out of the R. O. T. C. Anyway its a good idea.
